RACE RECAP !

In a time an era of dirt late model racing where hot streaks and dominance can be found, it is definitely not the case thus far in the 2026 Blue Ridge Outlaw Late Model season as South Carolina's Bryan Mullis became the 4th different winner in as many events by capturing the Jackson Shrine Club Race Saturday night at Lancaster Motor Speedway Caskey/Munn.

Dillon Brown (20.424) edged out his brother Jacob (20.540) in Group A Qualifying while Mullis (20.076) eclipsed Anthony Sanders (20.175) in Group B as the high banked ½ mile picked begin to pick up speed. In the Quick 8 Dash, Mullis would prevail over Dillon Brown, Sanders, and last week's winner Braden Jones to secure the pole position for the feature event.

Mullis and Brown, two of South Carolina's most prolific BROLM drivers, were set to lead the field to battle until mechanical problems struck Brown sidelining the multi-time series winner during the pace laps before the Green Flag was ever displayed. Mullis powered his #67 to the lead with the field in pursuit. As typical in most BROLM races, battles waged throughout the field. Braden Jones and Travis Steele, who entered the evening tied atop the championship standings, were not only looking for a solid finish in the event but solidified position in the chase for the season long championship as well. Local favorite Timbo Mangum rallied from his "less than desired" starting position to earn the Hard Charger Honors as Mullis remained in charge at the front of the field and captured the $3500 Jackson Shrine Club win with runner-up Anthony Sanders and Layton Sullivan joining him on the podium. Jones and Adam Yarbrough rounded out the top 5 finishers.

With 4 events complete in the pursuit of the 2026 BROLM Championship, the teams will have a few weeks off to regroup before heading to Sumter Speedway on Saturday May 16th for the Billy Cagle Memorial. Thanks to his Top 5 Finish at Lancaster, Braden Jones sits atop the championship standings and will carry a 14-point lead over Travis Steele into Sumter with Mullis, Dalton Hodge, and Caples Jr rounding out the Top 5.
